

Water works Portland

The water pipes at Portland are very old.

To keep everyone safe we need a new water system.

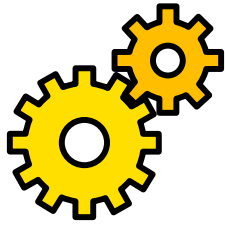

The work will take about 4 months.

There is a team of people working at Portland.

This is Jon and Darren.
They are working at Portland.

The team are using some new technology to do the work.

The new technology is called Trenchless technology.

Trenchless technology means the team only need to dig small holes in the ground.

There are some diggers and big machines at Portland to help the team do the work.

You can watch more about the trenchless technology on these videos:
